The state of Oregon understands that employees need more financial security. In fact, nearly 70% of Americans are concerned they don't have enough money for retirement—and for those nearing retirement, average savings sit at just $12,000.^{1,2}

The state of Oregon's retirement savings program, OregonSaves, was created to ensure that all Oregon workers have a simple and convenient way to save for retirement through their paychecks. In Oregon, an estimated one million workers lacked access to a work-based retirement plan prior to OregonSaves.

The program is voluntary for employees but mandatory for employers to offer if they don't already provide a qualified retirement savings plan.

Saving even a little now could make a big impact later.

If you're 25 now and save $150 a month, by the time you retire you could have over $300,000.³
